

Conference – Secur Middle East Congress 2008

Organized by Marcus Evans, the prestigious Secur Middle East Congress 2008 will take place in Dubai, UAE on 18-19 February 2008. iProA is one of the endorsers of the event and iProA members can enjoy 10% discount off the regular price when registering with Bernardine Michael, the Senior Marketing Executive in charge of this event. Kindly quote iProA discount and you will receive this exclusive offer!

Event Summary:

With the increasing convergence of business process, which is catalysed by emerging technology on information management and transfer, preventing breaches and manipulation of key business data by internal and external sources, is a top priority to business leaders.

The inaugural Secur Middle East is a continuation of Marcus Evans' IT security congresses, where experts and practitioners in the field of IT security meet and exchange ideas on latest developments on information security. The congress features a two-day conference with case studies presentations and interactive sessions combined with a major IT security-specific exhibition.

Who should attend?

CIOs, CTOs, CISOs, CSOs, Directors, Presidents, Vice Presidents, General Managers, Managers and Heads of:

- Information Technology • Management Information Systems (MIS)
- IT Security • Risk Management
- Network Security • Disaster Recovery & Business Continuity
- Information Security • Business/ Corporate Strategy
- Information & Communications Technology (ICT)

Within all industries in the Middle East Region

Please click www.securemecongress.com for the details. For more information, delegates registration or event brochure, please contact Ms. Bernardine Michael at +603 2723 6604 or BernardineM@marcusevanskl.com.